

RHODE ISLAND WORKFORCE ALLIANCE

SKILLS2COMPETE

Promoting a skilled, productive and prosperous workforce

Every Rhode Island worker should have access to the equivalent of at least two years of education or training past high school—leading to a vocational credential, industry certification, or one’s first two years of college-- to be pursued at whatever point and pace makes sense for individual workers and industries. Every person must also have the opportunity to obtain the basic skills needed to pursue such education.
